DISCLOSE PLANS TO OVERTHROW U. S. GOVERNMENT

Establishment of Bolshevik Republic Planned

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—A matter seized since the signing of the armistice has disclosed that the I. W. W., Anarchists, radical Socialists and others are perfecting an amalgamation which has for its object the overthrow of the American government thru a bloody revolution, and the establishment of a Bolshevik republic according to a memorandum sent to the senate propaganda committee by Solicitor General E. A. Tamm, of the postoffice department. The memorandum was made public today.

The information furnished by Mr. Tamm coincides to an extent with the statements reiterated today by Raymond Robins, former head of the American Red Cross mission in Russia when he again appeared before the committee primarily to answer statements concerning him made Saturday by David R. Francis, American ambassador to Russia. Mr. Robins insisted that it was the desire of the Bolsheviks to overthrow all governments of the world and in their place set up terroristic governments similar to those in Russia. He said he did not know of his own knowledge that Bolsheviks from Russia actually were engaged in trying to accomplish this purpose in the United States but that he was convinced certain people here were engaged in propagating Bolshevik ideas.

"The I. W. W.," he added, "has been doing it for twenty years."

Robins denied Francis' statement turning to Ambassador Francis' testimony last Saturday, Mr. Robins denied that he had gone to the headquarters of the Bolsheviks in Petrograd, asked about their principles and indicated his approval of them. He also denied that he had ever pretended to represent the American government in Russia. Ambassador Francis told the committee he had heard Mr. Robins was spoken of in Moscow as the mouthpiece of the American government.

Mr. Robins submitted to the committee copies of cablegrams which he said passed between Ambassador Francis and state department and telegrams and letters which he asserted were sent him by the ambassador.

The witness stated that his purpose in offering the documents was to show that at all times his relations with the ambassador were valued and cordial and that he was authorized by Ambassador Francis to maintain contact with the Bolsheviks.

One letter which Mr. Robins said was written by Ambassador Francis contained statements as to what the United States might do in case the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was not signed.

Mr. Robins said the letter was given to him to be used at his discretion and evidence to Lenin and the officials of the fourth-all-Russia soviet at Moscow to aid in the prevention of ratification of the treaty and as evidence of the willingness of the ambassador to urge against intervention in Siberia by the Japanese.

Others of the documents were credentials. They were presented by Mr. Robins as indicating the specific character of his unofficial relationship as "special representative of the ambassador with the soviet government."

Members of the committee told Mr. Robins that Ambassador Francis proclaimed war against the new arrangement.

YOUTH SHOT AND INSTANTLY KILLED

CHICAGO, March 10.—James Cavanagh, 19 years old was shot and killed last night while standing on the sidewalk with his two brothers in front of a pool room, and the police today are looking for Harry Rochotte and John A. Chance, brother and brother-in-law respectively of Miss Virginia Rochotte, Cavanagh's sweetheart, in connection with the killing.

Relatives of Miss Rochotte claimed that Cavanagh had wronged her. According to the police Chance who is a private in the army fired the shot which killed Cavanagh.

Cavanagh was a former student of St. Viator College at Bourbonnais, Ill., and was a former member of the aviation corps.

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS RE-ESTABLISHED

Mexico City, March 10.—According to unofficial reports the department of foreign relations has been notified the Cuban government that Dr. Ezequiel Garcia Ensenat, recently named Cuban minister to Mexico, would arrive at Vera Cruz on March 15. This will re-establish diplomatic relations between the two governments, which were interrupted in April, 1918.

Gives Story Of Wholesale Cold Blooded Murders

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, Sunday, March 9.—(By the A. P.)—A story of wholesale cold blooded murders, including the shooting of some sixty detectives, by the Spartacan forces was told today under oath by a government soldier who had been captured by the insurgents but managed to escape. He and eighteen other soldiers were captured, were taken into a court back of a group of buildings occupied by the Spartacans.

The prisoners, the soldier asserts, were compelled one by one to climb into a wagon where they were shot down by the insurgents. While this was going on a band of Spartacans brought in 60 detectives who had been captured in the attack on the Lichtenberg police station. The detectives were killed at close quarters. A government beyer courier was held by the hands and tortured before being shot. The division of cavalry riflemen reports further instances of cruel murders.

An automobile with seven soldiers was attacked and all were murdered. An automobile filled with volunteer soldiers was captured and nothing had been heard from them. A woman soldier in the Spartacan ranks who was captured by the government troops is declared to have confessed participation in more than twenty killings. The Spartacans also were accused of using airplanes for attacks on peaceable citizens.

BILL WOULD ABOLISH THE STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

(By The Associated Press.)
SPRINGFIELD, March 10.—A bill proposing the abolishment of the state board of equalization and the substitution of a commission of three to be named by the governor subject to the control of the department of finance is expected to make its appearance in the legislature the present week, according to legislative leaders tonight.

Under the measure, which is said to have the support of the administration the county is to be made the unit for taxation purposes. Governor Lowden in his biennial message and in subsequent addresses has referred to the board of equalization as "obsolescent" and inadequate to meet the responsibilities imposed in it as the chief tax adjusting body.

As at present constituted the board is made up of one member from each congressional district of the state. A question is said to exist as to whether, if the act creating the equalization board is repealed outright members of the board could be ousted prior to the expiration of their term of office.

Both houses will meet tomorrow morning, but no business of importance will be transacted by gentlemen's agreement until Wednesday. This is to give members opportunity to remain over Tuesday for downstate primaries and registration in Chicago.

GERMAN CIVILIANS WILL DO ROAD WORK

COBLENZ, Sunday, March 9.—(By The A. P.)—In preparing plans for the employment of more than ten thousand to fifteen thousand German civilians on road repairing and other work in the American area of occupation, American main headquarters has approved a proposal that the Germans be paid partly in rations.

The laborers will be paid in marks collected from the Berlin government with the privilege of taking part of their pay in corned beef, flour, sugar and coffee at the end of the week. The laborers will receive from eight to nine marks a day. The charge for the rations also will be checked against Berlin.

DETAILED PLANS OF SPARTACAN LEADERS TAKEN

Prepared to Overthrow Whole German Government

(By The Associated Press.)
BERLIN, March 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—MURDER, fighting and plundering continued throughout Sunday in various parts of the city. There was much sniping from the roofs. Many Spartacans were taken prisoner during the forenoon and summary executions began in the afternoon following the appearance of the order of Herr Noske, secretary of military.

Three looters caught in the act were the first to be executed. The government soldiers were so embittered by their opponents' atrocities that Herr Noske's decree was welcome. An instance of communist treachery was noted in the Kaiser Strasse where a sailor approached a small body of government troops holding up his hands.

The troops advanced to meet him and were quickly surrounded by a band of insurgents who disarmed them.

More than 150 wounded persons were taken to hospitals Sunday including many women and children. Many bodies were taken to the morgue. The Spartacans removed a large number of their own victims.

BERLIN, Saturday, March 8.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Spartacan leaders in the Berlin strike movement had a detailed plan for the overthrow of the government within a definite period. It is shown by Spartacan papers captured by the government forces. Among these documents was an elaborate plan by the Spartacan general staff mapping out the course for the insurrection and showing that it counted on a triumphant conclusion in five days, the movement to culminate in the proclamation of a soviet republic.

The first day's objective was the capture of police headquarters which the Spartacans were confident of accomplishing that day. They had ready for distribution printed hand bills announcing the capture of the headquarters, the reichstag building and the Unter Den Linden district. The third day's objectives were the chancellor's palace, the war ministry and the other ministerial buildings. For the fourth day was set the capture of railway station and the newspaper district and the fifth day was to complete the capture of the city with a climax reached by the proclamation of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The plan failed because the outside residents proved incorruptible and of high fighting qualities.

Casualties Large

The casualties also not definitely established, undoubtedly will prove larger than those of the January revolution. The Berlin morgue to which the civilian dead were at first transferred became filled to overflowing Friday and other morgues had to be improvised.

After their loss of the police headquarters district the Spartacans organized a new center of resistance in the northeastern section of Berlin but the government troops last evening and today were working slowly thru this district using artillery and mine throwers and now and then dislodging their opponents from the barricades and other points of resistance.

Artillery fire also was heard occasionally from the western suburbs where the Spartacans had attempted to start a new revolt.

Some sniping and roof fighting also was reported from various disturbed sections of the city. Even today that the revolt and the accompanying general strike were doomed to failure. Work was resumed in the factories only to a very limited extent today.

The non-appearance of the newspapers prevented the news of the decision to abandon the strike from becoming known today. The subway cars had not resumed operations because of the difficulty of protecting them.

The telegraph lines leading out of the country are working poorly and transmission of messages was hampered repeatedly by the strikers cutting off electric lights.

WHITE LOSES DECISION

Peoria, Ill., March 10.—Harvey Thorpe of Kansas City won the newspaper decision over Charley White by a slight shade here tonight in a ten round contest before the Peoria Fans' Association. The affair was tame thruout, and marked by almost constant clinching.

Sen. Chamberlain Assails Court Martial Sentences

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, March 10.—Describing certain court martial sentences in the American army as "things that make Bolsheviki of our young men," United States Senator George E. Chamberlain, chairman of the senate committee on military affairs sharply criticized the courts martial proceedings in an address before the United Waist league of America today.

"These sentences are imposed absolutely without system," he said, "and they are really imposed at the order of the commanding officer."

Referring to long sentences which had been imposed for slight infractions of the rules, Senator Chamberlain said "these boys know that an injustice has been done them and it will not increase their respect for the government."

Senator Chamberlain urged a better treatment of the returning soldiers and asked every business man to re-employ men who gave up their positions to enter the service. Senator Chamberlain severely criticized what he described as American unpreparedness in the war and asked whether a post-war unpreparedness against the menace of radical labor and Bolshevism was going to be allowed to continue. "There is no place in this country," the senator said, "for the Bolshevist, the anarchist, or the hyphenated American."

Mayor George D. Baker of Portland, Ore., another speaker, also warned against the spread of Bolshevism and other extremely radical doctrines. "In the west we have always felt secure that a state of true democracy existed," he said, "but there has crept in an organization that is trying to undermine the constitution and the freedom of democracy."

He said that the mayors attending the Washington conference last week agreed that there was a serious underground current in motion to get control of interests which would jeopardize every dollar invested in business in the country.

SHIPYARD WORKERS RETURN TO WORK TODAY

SEATTLE, Wash., March 10.—Shipyard workers in Seattle, Tacoma and Aberdeen prepared to return to work today following the voting of the workers who have been on a strike for several weeks to return to work under conditions prevailing when they walked out.

Employers estimated that in Tacoma and Seattle, $10,950,000 have been lost by the workers in wages during the strike. Union officials said the return of strikers will not constitute a waiver over the strike demands or the acceptance of the federal Macy wage scale against which the strike was primarily waged.

Between 200 and 250 metal trades workers who have been on a strike at Aberdeen were refused work today when they applied for their former jobs in the yard of the Grays Harbor Motor Ship Corporation. The men were informed that cancellations of contracts had rendered the re-employment of the majority of the strikers impossible.

MORE STRIKERS JOIN MARINE WORKERS

NEW YORK, March 10.—In sympathy with the strike of marine workers, against private boat owners, nearly 20,000 longshoremen quit work today refusing to handle freight delivered to piers by boats manned by non-union workers.

This announcement was made tonight by John F. Riley, chairman of the local council of the international longshoremen's union, Paul F. Bonynge, counsel for the boat owners, asserted, however, that the number had been exaggerated.

Riley declared the strike would spread to every pier to which freight was brought by strikebreakers. A threat that marine workers employed by the railroad administration with whom a settlement recently was reached might walk out again was made by William A. Maher, vice president of the marine workers affiliation.

A proposal of James L. Hughes, federal mediator, that private boat owners offer their men the same terms recently granted by the railroad administration was rejected by the New York Boat Owners' association. The chief obstacle to a settlement was the eight hour day demand.

ORGANIZE BOARD TO CONSIDER DISPUTES

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Several government departments have under consideration the organization of a board to hear disputes involving council of rates between several authorities and street car, gas and electric companies and other public utilities and to make recommendations.

City Councils, utilities commissions and other local authorities have been slow to act on applications for higher rates to meet increased operating costs according to the war finance corporation, war labor board and labor department. Consequently it is said that many utilities face a serious financial situation.

Conviction Of Debs Sustained by Justice Holmes

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Convictions under the espionage act of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist leader and Jacob Frohwerk, a newspaper editor of Kansas City were sustained today by the supreme court in unanimous decisions delivered today by Justice Holmes. Both men were sentenced by the lower courts to ten years imprisonment. While not passing directly upon the constitutionality of the act the court in effect did declare the act valid.

Debs was convicted on three counts but the court passed directly on only one of these charging him with obstructing recruiting and enlistment thru statements made in a speech at Canton, Ohio, last June.

Frohwerk's conviction resulted from articles written by him and published in the Missouri Staats Zeitung criticizing the United States participation in the war.

In affirming the Debs conviction Justice Debs reviewed the case in detail and held in effect that Debs had been guilty of willful refusal to obstruct recruiting and that the jury had been properly instructed by the lower court.

Regarding the Frohwerk case Justice Holmes declared that the first amendment to the constitution while prohibiting legislation against free speech as such was obviously not intended to give immunity for every possible use of language.

RUSSIAN WARSHIP ORDERED SEIZED

Company because of a collision between the warship and a mail steamer in the Cherbourg roads last November in which the steamer was damaged to the extent of $30,000.

The vice admiral in command at Cherbourg, has refused permission for the sailors to enter the arsenal and carry out the seizure claiming it to be against international law.

WAR COUNCIL LIMITS GERMANY TO ARMY 100,000

Take Up Representation of Small Powers

PARIS, March 10.—(By The Associated Press.)—The supreme war council today finally adopted the military terms of German disarmament.

These provide for an army of 100,000 men, enlisted for twelve years.

The supreme council today settled the disputed question of representation of the small powers on the economic and financial commissions of the peace conference by deciding to name the representatives itself, thus eliminating all contention between the European and Latin-American countries as to proportionate representation.

This decision was reached on a report of M. Pichon, the French foreign minister.

The committee on the international regime of ports, waterways and railways met this morning in plenary session at the ministry of public works, says today's official communique from the committee.

"In continued the discussion of the clauses to be inserted in the treaty of peace and began the examination of the report of navigation on the Rhine."

Paris, March 10.—The supreme council at its meeting today decided that the representatives on the economic and financial commissions of the powers with special interests who have been the cause of so much discussion should be designated by the great powers. The council then adopted the report of the military experts concerning the definite military status of Germany after fixing the terms.

The delegates of the American Federation of Labor visited the labor exchange today.

"The League of Nations," said Samuel Gompers, head of the delegation, "is above all a league of the people which must assure to the proletariat world guarantees of peace and liberty."

Mr. Gompers urged a universal union of the working classes in a fraternity of the peoples.

RETURN OF ROADS TO PEACE BASIS WILL REQUIRE MONTHS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Return of the railroads to a peace basis as well as labor forces and other conditions affecting the cost of operation will require several months, Director General Hines said in a statement issued tonight in reply to an address made by Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific railroad company last Saturday in Chicago.

Mr. Hines characterized as "unfair" Mr. Elliott's comparison of the number of employees of the Pennsylvania railroad company in December, 1917 in the 16 per cent increased force on the payrolls of that company in December, 1918, to demonstrate that federal control of the railroads was not the best results.

The director general said favorable weather during December of last year and the free movement of traffic in contrast with the weather and congested-traffic conditions in December, 1917 justified this increase in workers.

The Pennsylvania railroad, Mr. Hines also said, could not be considered as typical as the average increase in number of employees of all roads from Dec. 1917 to January of this year was only 8.25 per cent.

"The increase in the number of employees under government control," said the director general, "compared with the number of employees when the roads were under private management is almost negligible."

Director General Hines defended the increase in railway employees as necessary to place the roads on a war basis to meet the high percentage of labor "turnover" due to the railroads constantly losing trained workers thru the military draft and the attraction of higher wages in war industries and to the necessity of operating a vast number of special passenger trains that involved an unusual empty car mileage.

New York, March 10.—Lieut. Commander John P. Dalton, former navy football star died of pneumonia today in the New York Navy Yard hospital after a week's illness.

NEW TYPE OF BATTLE CRUISER DANIELS' PLAN

Wide Difference of Opinion Among Naval Officers

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Possibility that the whole battle cruiser program of the navy, in volving an expenditure of nearly half a billion dollars will be abandoned in favor of a new type of cruiser battleship was indicated by an announcement that Secretary Daniels had ordered suspension of work on the six 35-knot cruisers already authorized until a decision as to the future type of capital ship could be reached.

There is a wide difference of opinion among American naval officers as to whether the slow battleship and the fast cruiser not give way in the future to a ship combining the power of the one and nearly the speed of the other and because of this fact congressional committee have deferred action until a full report on new types can be made by the department. It is to gather information for this report that Secretary Daniels and his three chief technical advisers will sail Saturday for Europe. Upon their return some weeks before congress meets in extra session a general conference will be held at which a majority opinion of experienced officers will be worked out as to what type of capital ships should be built.

Difference of Opinion.

Secretary Daniels, in a statement issued today that the conclusion relating to capital ships resulting from a close study of naval activities of the present had created such a difference of opinion among naval experts that the secretary of the navy had directed the temporary suspension of the building of the large battleship which carries the great gun power and armor protection of a battleship and as much as possible the high speed of a battle cruiser and that such naval experts as Admirals Benson and Sims concurred in this opinion, but that many of the experts of the general board were of the opinion that the battle cruisers as planned should be proceeded with and battleships of slower speed greater gun power and greater protection be likewise constructed.

Secretary Daniels declared that little work on the ships had been done and that a delay of two months or so would not interfere with a proper decision in the matter.

GENERAL BOARD TO DECIDE

The navy has not had a similar controversy of ships design for ten years. In this case the navy general board, charged with deciding upon the military characteristics of new ships, disagrees with the opinion of the high officers who have had experience overseas in the present war. On the board are two former commanders of the Atlantic fleet Rear-Admirals Badger and Fletcher. They believe that the construction of both dreadnaughts and battle cruisers should continue. The difference of opinion began last year when the British admiralty decided to alter the plans for the battleship Hood to make her a composite battleship and battle cruiser. In effect the decision was to build a very high speed battleship, sacrificing gun power to some extent for speed, but retaining the defensive armor of a ship of the line. The Hood will have 15-inch rifles, full battleship armor and have a speed of a little more than 30 knots an hour. Her displacement is in excess of 40,000 tons.

The advantages of a very high speed battleship, however, appealed strongly to American officers overseas and they have urged this construction so strongly that the whole building program here for a time threatened to be blocked by failure of the naval establishment to agree on what was desirable.

The Hood Design.

Examining the Hood design some officers said that the gun-power of this huge vessel was of little more than half of the broad side weight of the new American dreadnaughts carrying twelve 16-inch guns. Some officers have estimated that to get such gun power in a ship that we approach a 30 knot speed and at the same time carry full battleship protection would require a 55,000 ton ship of about 900 foot length the cost of which would be not less than $40,000,000.

One effect it was said of the adoption of the cruiser battleship program would be to render obsolete all existing battleships. The speed of these new type vessels would be useless in individual ships officers said and to construct an entire fleet of them would present a stupendous cost. In construction.

THOSE GERMAN HELMETS.

The people are helping the government in the puzzling question of disposition of the 85,000 German helmets recently received for Liberty Loan advertising. It was found that the government could not legally distribute these mementoes, neither could it dispose of them by sale. Meanwhile, while an investigation is under way, the people are helping themselves and over half of the supply is said to be already exhausted.

THE IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

The immigration question promises to be one of the most important before the next congress and there is promise of some animated discussion of the question. Senator Johnson of California is chairman of the committee and California has not always had the same ideas as the rest of the country on the immigration question. The senator is said to favor absolute prohibition of immigration for a four year period. It will be hard to make such a policy consistent with American ideals, for most citizens have liked to think of this country as always offering a haven of refuge for all law abiding citizens who might come from European countries.

ELECTION DAY.

This is the primary election day and candidates of both parties will be named. Practically every voter has before this time made up his or her mind about the candidates to be supported. Now the thing is to get to the polls and record the votes. It is the duty of every man and woman of voting age who is interested in Jacksonville to take part in this election today. Don't stay at home. Don't put off voting until this afternoon. Get your vote into the ballot box and take your share of responsibility in deciding who will be the candidates in the regular election a few weeks hence.

ANOTHER VIEW OF THE WHEAT QUESTION.

Herbert Hoover throws another interesting sidelight on the wheat situation. The food administrator now indicates his belief that the U. S. will not be required to pay the billion dollars appropriated to make good the guaranteed wheat price. Mr. Hoover explains that the 1918 surplus did not materialize, and that the 1919 demand is far greater than was expected. In addition, some of the

She's the highest priced short story writer in the world. She has criticized "THE HEART OF HUMANITY," starring Dorothy Phillips in Allen Holubar's super-production. Read what Miss Hurst says:

"I saw 'The Heart of Humanity' and I want to give you a piece of my mind about it. First, I think it is the finest achievement that the screen has yielded up so far—also aside from the fine moving love story, I learned a vast amount about modern armament. 'There is a moment in that picture that is going to thrill down the spinal column of the world. I refer to the dog scene, one of the greatest photographic moments I have ever enjoyed. Dorothy Phillips is more than sweetly charming; she is a rare combination of sheer youth and deep emotionalism and one of the really sincere artists of the screen. She and her splendid supporting cast, together with the big artistic direction and production, round out the picture into a masterpiece.

LUTTRELL'S MAJESTIC

wheat piled up in Australia has spoiled, and together with an uncontrolled market it begins to look as if the wheat price may be above the government guarantee instead of below it. If this happens it would be a curious change of condition by comparison with what the farmers have been expecting.

Some color is given the story by the condition of the hog market. Since the guarantee of $17.50 was taken of a few days since the market has been stronger, and 20 cent hogs are now freely predicted.

News of uprisings and riots continue to come from Germany. Conditions there are not quite so bad as in Russia but they verge upon it.

IN PRACTICAL WORK.

The returned soldiers in Canada have organized a company which will provide the members with practical employment and will also fill a need. Soldiers have united in the "Veteran Mechanical Farmers Co." and have a fleet of 60 farm tractors with the necessary accompanying machinery for doing plowing and cultivating. Vast acreages in Canada are in waste land because farmers are unable to secure the necessary help. Now the work is to be done in a wholesale way and the soldiers are going to make a substantial contribution to the agricultural activities of Canada.

Senator Reed of Missouri, who is a bitter opponent of the league of nations plan, is almost as vitriolic as Senator Sherman. He seems to have the unhappy faculty too of resenting criticism and does not take it kindly when constituents disagree with him. The senator who fails to recognize the rights of his constituents to criticize and fails to try to further explain his point of view, is making a big political mistake.

RED CROSS SHOWS NEED OF CLOTHING.

Clothing is needed in Europe at the rate of a million garments a month if the lives of millions of men, women and children—desperate refugees—are to be saved. It is possible for the American people to furnish this clothing at a minimum of sacrifice. The American Red Cross points the way. Beginning March seventh, the Red Cross will conduct a two-week campaign for second-hand clothing of all sorts. If possible, ten thousand tons will be shipped to northern France, Belgium, Italy, Serbia, Greece, Montenegro, Albania, Czechoslovakia, Poland and Palestine.

The devastation in these parts of Europe utterly staggers the comprehension of the American people. Not only has everything been swept away in many districts but the bare necessities of life are so scarce that they cannot be purchased at prices within the reach of even the well-to-do classes. And in many cases they cannot be purchased at any price. For instance, in Warsaw the price of thread is $2.50 a hobbler. People cannot even mend the rags which are serving them for clothing.

The lack of clothing is especially fatal to the children. The death rate has become appalling. At Lodz, Poland, the birth rate in 1917 was only 2,400 and the death rate was 8,000. In 1918 the birth rate was 18,034 and the death rate 12,051. And figures for 1918 are showing still greater suffering.

Garments need not be in perfect condition. Thousands of people in Europe are in rags today and a dress or suit with only a few holes would be a luxury, indeed. Every kind of clothing is asked for—as long as it is of strong and durable material. And there is a plea for shoes and scrap leather. Much of Europe is barefoot in spite of the cold.

In addition to second-hand clothing, the Red Cross will collect piece goods, cotton flannel and other material for garments for new-born babies, and ticking, sheeting, blankets and woolen goods.

Good country butter, 45c lb. P. J. Shanahan's Grocery.

TELL THE RED CROSS

A returned soldier was reported yesterday as begging from house to house, and a number of people made contributions. There must be something wrong about this case, as the Red Cross has a committee to take care of any returned soldier who is in special need.

WITH THE COLORS

From Corporal Leo T. Lahey. Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lahey of Liberty have the following letter from their son, Corporal Leo T. Lahey, with Co. L, 22nd Engineers, now in France:

Allevard, France, Jan. 30, 1919.
My Dear Mother and All:—
Will drop you a few lines tonight to let you know I am fine and dandy, and hope this will find you and the rest the same. I got your letter O. K. and one from each of the girls.

I am in the southern part of France now, at a rest camp, at Allevard. Left the company the 25th of January and will be here until the 5th of February. It sure is some place, right in the heart of the alps. We came thru the main towns of France coming here. We left our company in trucks and went to Toul, and boarded the cars. There we passed thru the town where General Pershing's headquarters was, and thru a town which was the only place in the war of 1870 that the Germans could not take. We arrived in Dijon in the morning and stayed there all day. It is sure a fine place. One of the old cathedrals is there. We got into Grinoble the following day, then we went from there thru the mountains in small cars.

This place is a small town. Most all hotels. It is a great summer resort. The mountains are covered with snow now. We went on a hike this morning thru an old iron plant in the mountains. The men working on it were all German prisoners, and this afternoon we went upon the mountains to three caves. It was the hardest thing I ever tried to do, to climb one of the mountains.

I went far back into one of the caves. We used candles and flash lights for light. One of the oldest buildings here is a tower built in 1400 and still as solid as a rock.

There were 222 that came out of our company. Francis Doolin and I are rooming together. Sure got a fine hotel and some bed, and a dance every night at the Y. M. C. A. The French girls come to the dance. The American boys are teaching them how to dance.

Well, Mama, I don't know much to write this time. Had my picture taken yesterday; the first time I have had a chance since I left the States. Will send them home as soon as I get them.

Am sending you a picture of the hotel at which I am staying and of the church.

Will close for this time, hoping you are well and will answer soon.

From your loving son,
Leo.

From Thomas Mandeville.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mandeville have received the following letter from their son:

Dear Mother, Father and Brothers and Sisters:—
Midbach, Germany.
As I have heard this afternoon that Lee Flynn was dead, I thought I would drop you a few lines. Tom McGrath got a letter from a friend which brought the sad news; it is certainly too bad. I was sure sorry to hear of it. I had been hoping that he was alive and alright, for Tom McGrath has been getting letters from his friend every few days and never a word did they mention of him. Even Aunt Mary said nothing of him, so I supposed he must have been alive somewhere in France. He was a brave soldier. He said the rosary every night and read his prayer quite often and I did the same. The fourth of October (in the morning) Lieutenant Blomberg was killed. Lee, Tom McGrath and Dale White, Art Wilson, and R. Cooper captured a machine gun. They run around a hill and slipped quietly up behind the Huns and fired on them; two fell and another was wounded. They then went up to where they were routed out seven days more; searched them, broke their machine guns and took them prisoners. I used to look for Lee Flynn and Tom McGrath every night. You know I was not with them; I was a runner while on the front, the last I had seen of them was the 15th of Oct. They were all right then. They both disappeared and I didn't know anything more until Tom McGrath came back to the company. He said he and Lee were separated one night while moving back and he had never seen him since. Lee and Tom were always together, but you know there is a hundred things to think of and they in some way got separated.

Well, I have seen hundreds of American soldiers lying on the field dead. And I pray that God will reward them for what they went thru.

Well, the place where I am staying now is at a hotel; the name of it is the Dutch Kaiser; but there is no sign of the Kaiser around here. The German people treat the Americans fine, but of course, no other way would do.

Did Papa get my letter, and the watch chain? I was afraid it would not go thru, but the mail clerk told me it would, so I let it ride. I am going to bring some souvenirs home with me. Well, I guess I will ring off for today.

Hoping this letter will find you all well, as it leaves me all O. K.

Your son,
Private Thomas A. Mandeville.

FROM PRIVATE

ORIN M. SUMMERS

Mrs. Arthur Seymour of Murrayville has sent for publication in the Journal the following letter received from her nephew, Private Orin M. Summers, with 118th Co., Transfer Corps, France:

Dev. W. R. Leslie, is in Chicago to attend the sessions of the Inter-Church World Movement in behalf of Missions. The sessions will cover a period of three days. The conference is for the purpose of uniting the Protestant mission work of the world, the object being to avoid duplication of effort and expenditure. The Chicago meeting is the first held on the American continent and the territory embraced in this region includes seven states, of which Illinois is one.

AN ERROR CORRECTED

Still another question has been discussed among women voters and in some cases has proved a little confusing. It seems that a number of Democratic women erroneously have the idea that if they choose to do so they may take a Democratic ticket today and write thereon the name of the Republican candidate for mayor. This would probably have the effect of making the ballots defective and if it did not would not be of the slightest benefit in securing the nomination of Mr. Crabtree.

CORPORAL SOOY MAY STILL LIVE

News From Overseas About Soldier Who Slipped From View Months Ago Holds Out Some Hope.

Many Morgan county friends of Corp. Earl Sooy, whose disappearance while serving with American forces overseas has never been fully explained, will be very much interested in reading the following letter. This communication was sent to Corp. Sooy's father, Lieut. Watkins of Co. E, second engineers. There is still some hope that the Morgan county young man may yet be located. The lieutenant makes it very clear in his letter that he held the corpora in the highest esteem.

Headquarters Co. E, 2nd Engineers, American Expeditionary Forces, Engers, Germany, Feb. 18, 1919.

Mr. George Sooy, Murrayville, Ill.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of January 29th at hand, and I will give you such further information as I can.

A few days after your son was reported missing in action, we were taken from that front and went into action in the last big action of the war. We never advanced far enough on that front to enable us to make a thorough search for your son. He was on a reconnaissance expedition that took him to the south bank of the Alsne river near the town of Altkirch, the enemy were holding the opposite bank, and any attempt to approach the river was met with heavy fire, so no attack was made there by us to cross the river, we never were able to thoroughly search the banks on each side.

As I before stated it is a possibility that your son was taken prisoner, but to be plain I hardly think he was, for he most surely was in the river, and would have swam to our shore. I cannot say whether or not he was wounded and fell in, or was killed. We have always hoped that he was neither but that he jumped in trying thus to escape, or that even the wounded he managed to make a landing further down. But had he landed farther down the river on our side he would have been taken to a French hospital as they were operating on our left, or should he have landed on the further shore he would have been taken prisoner.

The prisoner lists are perhaps not all complete and there is still the hope that he may be among them.

But should he have given his life to the cause, his body would sooner or later be found along the shore, and as he wore his identification tag at all time identification would be made and he would be buried. This burial would no doubt have been by the French, and the records of it will in time be turned over and you will receive notification of it.

There is nothing further that I know of that will be of help to you. All I can say is that Corporal Earl Sooy was at all times ready to do any thing required to help the great cause. I have heard him on several occasions talking to his squad urging them on to greater efforts and trying to instill into them the true spirit of a soldier. He surely did his bit, did it willingly and earnestly. Thank God that we have had such a him with us in this conflict. It was a pleasure to have him one of my men, and I felt a great loss when he was gone. Dear parents there is no more that I can say but that I extend to you my sincere sympathy at this time and ask you to try to let your sorrow be softened by the thought that you have had the great blessing of such a son, and that he was willing to give all that is possible to give to help our cause. I remain,

Yours in sympathy,
S. A. Watkins,
1st. Lieut. U. S. Engineers.

GOOSE GREASE YOUR COLD

No better external remedy for colds ever has been discovered since some wise grandma first tried goose grease and turpentine.

But goose grease and turpentine work only from the outside. The trouble is on the inside, and by treating from both directions, quicker results can be obtained. MEN-THO-EZE is goose grease and turpentine to which have been added menthol, the great Chinese remedy, also peppermint, wintergreen and other healing oils.

While the goose grease and turpentine, rubbed on the chest, are working from the outside, fumes of the menthol and other essences are being inhaled to the linings of the throat and lungs, drawing out the soreness and soothing the raw, inflamed surfaces.

In this way, MEN-THO-EZE gives relief in twenty minutes.

The time to check colds is when they first appear. Keep MEN-THO-EZE handy and be ready for them. In opal jars, 30c and 60c.

ABOUT SOLDIERS' DISCHARGES

Have Them Recorded and Also a Record Placed in the Public Library.

Several times the Journal has called attention to the matter of having the discharges of returning soldiers recorded and a memorandum also of them placed in the public library. The county board has generously provided for free records and at the Journal office or the public library blanks may be had free of charge so that a duplicate record will be kept of all who take the trouble to attend to the matter. It should by all means be done. Attend to it now, while you think of it, boys.

TWO SMALL CHILDREN MAKE LONG JOURNEY

Monday noon when the Chicago and Alton train came in from the south the conductor brought out two small children, a boy and a girl and left them in the care of the agent.

No one was there to meet them, and the agent notified the police station and Officer McGinnis was sent and took the children in charge and took them to headquarters.

At the station the children first said their names were Cole, and that they were coming to their mother Minnie Cox. Later the children gave the name of William Cox and Zella Cox.

The boy is five years of age and the girl three years of age. Sergeant Kiloran was at loss as to what to do and sent for Miss Dorsey. The children were taken into Commissioner Martin's office and it was soon learned that their mother, Mrs. Minnie Cox had come here to keep house for Roma Cole, whose wife died a few days ago. Mrs. Cox is a sister of Mrs. Cole.

She had to leave her children in Cincinnati. When she got settled she sent for them and they were placed on the train with three tickets. At East St. Louis they were transferred to the Chicago and Alton train and brought to Jacksonville. Mr. Cole resides at 600 Hooker street and the mother was notified and soon had the children with her.

SOME INTERESTING PICTURES

Mrs. J. Herman has received from her nephew, Harry Sitt, in Coblenz, on the Rhine, some rare photographs. They are of historic value and the young man refused five dollars each for them. One is a photograph of the first lot of Yankee prisoners taken by Germans and the poor fellows look downcast enough as they are marching along. Another is a photograph of the kaiser, crown prince and Gen. Von Hindenburg reviewing some German troops. These pictures are rare and hard to get and the young man was fortunate in securing them.

One day he was talking with a U. S. soldier who said he was from Texas and farther conversation developed the fact that the stranger was a nephew of Mr. Herman.

Contracts for the battle cruisers were awarded in March 1917, but as available ship building facilities were concentrated on destroyers and merchant ships work on capital warships was held up.

As designed the ships were to have had a tonnage of 34,000 and a speed of 35 knots. They would have been 850 feet long, 91 feet broad and would have carried ten 14-inch rifles, eight torpedo tubes, eighteen five-inch rifles and many other smaller guns.

The Horrible Handicap of Poisoned Blood

The Innocent Suffer Even Unto the Third and Fourth Generations, But Relief Is Now In Sight

It has long been accepted as a matter of course that the sins of the fathers must be suffered by innocent posterity, yet it is hard to become reconciled to the condition. The heritage of physical infirmity is a handicap under which thousands must face the battle of life.

Scrofula is probably the most noticeable of the transmitted blood disorders, though there are other more severe diseases of the blood that pass from one generation to another. No matter what inherited blood taint you may be laboring under, S. S. S. offers hope. This remedy has been in general use for more than fifty years. It is surely vegetable, and contains not a particle of any chemical, and acts promptly on the blood by routing all traces of the taint, and restoring it to absolute purity. Some of the most distressing cases of transmitted blood poison have yielded to the treatment of S. S. S., and no case should be considered incurable until this great remedy has been given a thorough trial. S. S. S. acts as an antidote to every impurity in the blood. You can obtain it at any drug store. Our chief medical adviser will take pleasure in giving you without cost any advice that your individual case requires. SEARGEANT SLOAN IS WORLD WAR VETERAN

Went to European Battle Zone
With First Medical Unit—
Attached to British Forces—
In Active Service Nearly Two Years.

Sergeant John Sloan, a veteran of the world war, is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Sloan, of 999 East Lafayette avenue. He was a member of the first medical unit to go to the European battle zone and for nearly two years was in active service with the British army.

The unit with which Sergeant Sloan was attached was organized in Chicago immediately after the declaration of war in April, 1917. The unit was headed by Col. C. E. Collins, a regular army surgeon whose home is in Lynchburg, Va. Sailed for Europe in May, 1917 May 19, 1917, the unit sailed for Europe on the Mongolia. When a day out from New York a shell exploded aboard ship while the gun crew was holding practice and killed two nurses and seriously injured several other people. The ship put back to New York and after remaining a day and night again took up its voyage. The Mongolia made port at Blackpool, England, July 7. After a week there the unit went across the channel and was sent to the Ypres sector and brigaded with the British forces. During Sergeant Sloan's service abroad he was attached to all four of the British armies.

The divisions with which he was attached saw service at Narvy, Bellemeuse, Bellecourt and Bony. The unit also was at other places along the western front and Sergeant Sloan saw much of the horrors of war. In fact he said so much that it is impossible for him to tell it. One might expect him to be able to tell of something new.

Speaking of his experiences Sergeant Sloan said, "I used to read the letters I sent home after they had been printed in the paper and not until then would I realize how little I had told. However, the sea service was so strict that it was impossible to tell what actually happened."

"On one occasion our hospital was bombed and several Americans were killed. This was prior to September, 1918 and up to that time but few names of casualties had been given out. We have reason to believe that the Americans killed at that time were the first casualties to United States to occur on the battle front."

German Atrocities. "Some of the atrocities that the Germans committed were almost beyond belief," said the sergeant. "Their treatment of residents of cities captured early in the war were barbarous in their cruelty and such as one would expect only from savages."

"The city of Bohain, France, was somewhat back of the famous Hindenburg line. This place was captured by the Germans in August, 1914, the first year of the war. The Hindenburg line was broken near this place and my unit was in there shortly after the Germans left."

"Residents of the town would not believe that we were Americans. They had heard the Germans talking about the entry of the United States in the war. However, the Germans said it would not be possible to get many men across because of the submarines."

"Only the old men, women and little children were found in cities occupied by the Germans. The younger men if there were any, were sent to Germany to work. The old men and in some instances the little boys were sent to the battle zone to build fortifications for the Germans."

Cut Off Fingers With Sword. "One old man who Sergeant Sloan said was probably between 65 and 70 years of age had all the fingers of his right hand except the little finger cut off. The man of the town change was going to work with the injured hand and Sergeant Sloan said it looked as though he had taken care of it himself for it was in terrible condition."

Many other things of similar nature the sergeant told. He saw war in all its horrible reality. Men with terrible wounds and one of the most things was going enough left to bury. One instance he related of a shell which fell in an open field and did not explode. Fifteen men gathered around it and were examining it. Evidently it had a time fuse for it exploded and of the fifteen men the remnants of their bodies were all placed in one coffin. This and many other things were related.

Speaking of the fighting Sergeant Sloan said that the English were good fighters but not nearly so good as the Australians, Americans, Canadians and French. The French in his opinion were the best fighters of the continental troops.

Tunnel Three Miles Long. At St. Quentin the Germans had made a tunnel parallel with the canal. This tunnel was three miles in length and so built that the troops could be transferred from place to place without being exposed to allied fire. It was a wonderful piece of engineering and showed what preparation the Germans had made in their effort to capture the world.

The sergeant also told some inside history of the retreat of the British army in March, 1918, at the beginning of the big spring drive. He said that the army retreated without ever giving battle to the Germans. The retreat while orderly was made with such speed that the Germans captured a number of canteens.

British officers' uniforms were obtained by the Germans and these were given to German officers who could speak English and they joined the army and gave orders for retreat. The bringing down of the Australians from the north and throwing them into the breach saved the day for the British.

German Mistake Costly. Sergeant Sloan was of the opinion that had the Germans not attempted two major offensives at the same time on the western front that they probably would have captured Paris. He said, however, that the capture of Paris would never have conquered France as it was not a vital point except from the fact that it was the nation's capital.

He also visited Paris on further during the time that the Germans were bombarding the city with the long range guns. He saw a number of places where the shells struck. He said that the people did not seem at all alarmed by the bombardment and if a shell struck a few blocks away pedestrians would not even go out of their way to see what damage had been done.

The government had men who immediately repaired damage done by the shells or cleared away the debris in order to preserve the morale of the people. However, he did not believe that such work was necessary as the French people seemed to be wonderfully poised after three years of war and suffering.

Saw Long Range Gun. Later in the war he had an opportunity to see the wreck of one of the long range guns. The army had captured a German artilleryman whom it was suspected was a member of the crew of the long range gun. Later he confessed that he was.

The gun was broken into three pieces and the gunner said that it had exploded after a few shots had been fired. "It was a monster gun," Sergeant Sloan said, "fully sixty feet in length and was moved on its pivot by a small engine. It took three months, the German said, to transport the gun and its parts, build the foundation and get it set. It merely was one instance of the advancement the Germans had made in building weapons of destruction. After the signing of the armistice Sergeant Sloan's unit received several orders. One day they would be told that they were to go with the army of occupation. A few days afterward they would receive word that they were to be sent home. The men's hopes rose and fell with the various orders. They were war weary however and were wild with joy when the order finally came transferring them to the American forces."

Admired Australians. Speaking of the service Sergeant Sloan said the Americans greatly admired the Australians and also the Canadian and French. However, they did not like the British troops because of their egotism.

He also said that it was rather grinding on the men in his unit who had been among the pioneers on the battle fields of Europe to see the way some of the officers of the American forces who arrived overseas late put on airs and that it was rather against the grain to have to take orders from them. Especially was this so because of the manner in which they were given.

days and visit friends and relatives.

His brother, James Sloan, is also at home. He went to the army several months ago and has been stationed at an eastern camp. Another brother, Francis Sloan, is still overseas and no word has been received from him for some time.

It is needless to say that Mrs. Sloan, who so freely gave her three sons to their country, is happy at having two again at home. If she had the other one now her happiness would be complete.

Here's what the Secretary Said:

"It is a valuable picture, and brings to us in a forcible manner the sacrifices which were made both at the front and at the fireside to free the world and place love in its rightful place. The picture touched me deeply and I hope that it will help in bringing about some sort of 'League of Nations,' which will chain the heyna gone mad with lust and ambition."

A NOTED DOG FANCIER

Arthur Judge of St. Louis was a city caller yesterday visiting Lukeman Brothers, clothiers, among others. The gentleman is a great dog fancier on the side, his specialty being choice bull dogs of which he has a number worth away up the hundreds. He had with him one so attractive that George Lukeman couldn't let it go farther so took it to his home to the tune of $250.00. George probably could sell the animal for more than that; in fact Mr. Judge wanted $300 for him and only came down on count of friendship. Needless to add, George is very proud of his purchase.

SATURDAY LAST DAY TO PAY INCOME TAXES

J. B. Sikking of Decatur in City to Give Information Regarding Tax Schedules—Will Have Office in the Court House Rest of Week.

J. B. Sikking, of Decatur, special representative of the revenue department will be in the city all week to give persons desiring information about their income taxes. Mr. Sikking has plenty of blanks and farmers' schedules.

As Saturday, March 15 is the last day for filing returns, Mr. Sikking is looking forward to a busy week, and requests all those seeking information to give it their immediate attention. Attention is called also that it is not necessary for farmers to fill out inventories at the beginning or at the end of the year. They may be filled out anyway satisfactory to the farmers. People who receive rents from farms are not required to file farm schedules.

Mr. Sikking will have office hours in the grand jury room in the court house between 8:30 a. m., and 4:30 p. m. all this week. The public should bear in mind that Saturday, March 15th is the last day to pay their taxes to avoid penalty.

One new feature is that in making a return at least 25 per cent of the computed tax must be sent with the return. If the tax payer desires he may send the entire amount as computed with the return or otherwise he can make it in four payments. Here, tofore no remittance was necessary with the returns as filed and the payments were not expected until June. There are many other new points in the law this year and the people of Morgan county should take advantage of the opportunity offered them by the government to secure assistance.

A few paragraphs from a circular sent out by Collector Pickering are as follows:

"Every unmarried person who had a net income of $1,000 or over during 1918, and every married person who, together with wife (or husband) and minor children, had a net income of $2,000 in 1918.

"The advice and services of the deputy collector are entirely free, and he is authorized to administer the oath required on returns, free of charge. Persons who are taxable should make payment when filing their returns by attaching check or money order.

"This tax is a war burden; it is a part of the price of victory, the greatest victory that the world has known. I believe the people of this district will meet it fully, and I am offering every facility of my office to aid them to determine their individual returns.

"Early payment of income taxes is of the utmost importance in meeting the treasury's debts brought about by the war. The new law names March 15th as the first payment date because there are large obligations outstanding in the form of certificates of indebtedness that must be met on that date.

"Co-operation is the spirit of the time. It is vital to the income tax. Let us all get together and establish another record of Americanism."

RIGHTS OF VOTERS

A number of questions have been asked during recent days with reference to the rights of voters in the primary today. The primary election law provides that a voter cannot change his party alignment in a primary election within two years' time. This means that any Democrat who has taken part in a primary election within two years cannot today vote a Republican ticket. Of course the same thing applies the other way and no Republican who has voted in a primary election within two years can vote the Democratic ticket in the primary election today.

It is interesting to note, however, that these provisions in no way affect women, as they have at no time taken part in a primary election and therefore have the right today to declare themselves members of any party they choose.

Morris Lee journeyed from New Berlin to the city yesterday.

H. T. WHITE THANKS
FIRE DEPARTMENT

Sends Letter of Appreciation to Chief Hunt.

Fire Chief Samuel Hunt has received a letter from H. T. White, managing officer of the State School for the Deaf thanking the department for its timely work at the fire at the isolation hospital of the institution recently.

The hospital is located on the old fair grounds and in order to reach it, it was necessary to drive the American LaFrance fire truck over a half mile of cinder road and a quarter of a mile of dirt road thru the snow. The call was responded to in fast time and thereby the building was saved. The letter follows:

Jacksonville, March 8, 1919.
Mr. Samuel Hunt, Fire Chief,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir:
I thank you and your associates for the prompt and efficient service in responding to the call of fire at our isolation hospital this afternoon. You were not only willing to help but you actually came to the rescue after we had used nine of our own Babcock extinguishers and put the fire out with your chemicals.

We shall remember your good work with much satisfaction.
Very truly yours,
H. T. White, A. M. O.

ILLINOIS STUDENTS
HELD "PEP" MEETING

Celebrated Victory of Basketball Team at Chapel Monday Morning—Another Meeting Held Monday Afternoon.

Illinois College students celebrated the victory of the basketball team in the state tournament at Bloomington Monday.

At chapel Monday morning Coach Harmon presented the championship shield which was awarded and also the ball which was used in the game. It is customary for the winner of the championship to be presented with the ball used and this will be placed in the trophy room. Dean Hayden accepted the shield and trophy in behalf of the college.

All of the members of the team were called upon and responded briefly, telling how it happened. T. M. Tomlinson who saw a part of the final game was present and told the students what he saw. He paid a high compliment to the players for the work they did.

Monday evening the students not satisfied with the morning display of enthusiasm held a "pep" meeting in the gymnasium. There was a large attendance of students and some rousing talks were made.

Members of championship five with the exception of Cully, who is home on account of illness, again talked. Plans also were made for track athletics. The outlook is fine for a star track team and the speakers voiced the opinion that Illinois will again bring home the "bacon" from Peoria where the meet will again be held.

Coach Harmon said last night that he would have nearly every member of the team which captured the meet last year. In addition the intra-mural contests are expected to develop some new stars who will be eligible for the meet.

CITY COUNCIL IN WEEKLY SESSION

Prepare to Extend West State Street Paving—Will Connect Morton Avenue Hard Road With City.

The city council met Monday morning in regular session. A report indicated that within a week specifications will be ready for receiving bids on the construction of the proposed reservoir. An ordinance was presented for the paving of West State street from Webster avenue to the city limits. A resolution adopted in regard to the paving of Morton avenue between Hardin avenue and the west end of the hard road.

The Pearce and Greeley Engineering firm will have the specifications ready for the dam and filtration plant by next Monday, according to statement by Mayor Rodgers. As previously indicated it is the expectation that the plans and specifications will be in such shape that bids for construction can be asked at no distant date.

Commissioner Martin in making brief report for his department, referred to the good work done by the motor truck Saturday, when fire broke out at the isolation hospital at the school for the deaf. It would not have been possible to get to the fire with the old horse drawn trucks in time to have saved the building from destruction according to Mr. Martin's opinion.

The City's Credit.

Mayor Rodgers in reporting for the department of public affairs, said that the statements of some citizens and their published letters were unfair to the city and gave the false view that Jacksonville is financially bankrupt. He said that this was not true and while it was almost impossible for citizens to take approved bills, although an interest allowance had been made, that the city had not reached its limit of legal indebtedness and that every claim against it is good. He mentioned that within a few days past that about $40,000 had been paid on the city's debt with anticipation warrants, issued according to custom. The mayor expressed regret that so many people seemed to enjoy criticising the city officials and in talking about the city's embarrassed financial condition, evidently forgetting that in so doing they are criticising themselves.

He said that those who are unwilling to give any assistance or to try to make conditions better, simply were tearing down instead of building up. Commissioner White talked along the same line and emphasized the point that it was not at all surprising that Jacksonville is in a somewhat bad way financially when increased expenses are remembered and the further fact is taken into consideration that nothing was ever done to make up for the license money which the city lost when the saloons went out of business about 12 years ago. At that time about $25,000 a year came in from licenses and after the city failed to receive any money from this source nothing was ever done to provide funds to make good the deficiency. Mr. White said the same thing would happen to the whole country when the prohibition law goes into effect if it were not for the fact that the U. S. treasury department is already making preparation to make good the deficiency from liquor taxes in some other way.

Mr. White presented an informal request from Supt. Gray of the Railway and Light Co., to lay a temporary track across Anna street from the gas plant to a lot where coal has been placed in storage. It is the purpose to use a push car there for hauling of this coal. Mr. White said the street is not in condition for wagon use and if the track is to be temporary he was in favor of acceding to the request. The matter was referred to Mr. White with power to act. Mr. Vasconcellos was in favor of the proposition but thought it would be well to have some contract in writing. The ordinance was given a second reading providing for the vacation of that part of Mauvaister street leading north from Washington street to the tracks of the Wabash railroad.

State Street Paving.

The ordinance was read providing for an asphalt pavement from Webster avenue west to Finley street. The estimated cost is Asphalt, $9,155; Curb, $536; Headers, $37; Excavating, $243; Court costs, $598; Total, $10,566.

A resolution was presented to clear the record of the property on West College avenue purchased not long since by C. H. James from Dr. Baxter. In 1891 there was a paving assessment against this property which has not been released. From the facts presented it was found that there was some error in the record and a resolution was allowed in order to straighten this defect in the title.

A resolution was presented whereby the city releases its right to a portion of Morton avenue between the present city limits and the west end of the hard road on Morton avenue. Under previous ownership the county and the city had joint ownership of 500 feet of roadway. By the passing of this resolution the city relinquishes its rights to the portion of Morton avenue mentioned and the county board has agreed to make this a hard road. The distance from the Morton avenue pavement to the road that the county will construct is 1,000 feet and the city will take the necessary steps to have this paved so that the Morton avenue road will connect up with the city paving. In the same transaction the city releases its right to a portion of Brooklyn avenue between Henry street and Morton avenue. The county will put in the road and be responsible for the bridges.

Commissioner White said he had mentioned to several farmers the advantage of running the East State street pavement from the city limits to the Mauvaister creek bridge and he found a good sentiment in favor of this project. An ordinance was given the first reading calling the city election for Tuesday, April 15. The polling places will be practically the same as those used in the primary election today, and there are few changes in officials.

An ordinance was read providing for an asphalt pavement on East State street from the C and A tracks to Johnson street. The estimated cost of this improvement is $22,937.

HARRY OAKES LAND SALE
TOTALS OVER $200,000

2,452 Acres of Land in Scott County Sold at Auction Averaging $80 Per Acre — Much of Land Untiltable—Large Crowd Attends.

Bluffs, Ill., March 10.—One of the largest land sales held in Scott county in a long period of years was held in the Opera house in this city today when the holdings of Harry Oakes, Jr., were disposed of at public auction. Over five hundred people were present from many parts of central Illinois. The sale of the 2,452 acres of land brought $200,764, an average of about $80 per acre.

Much of the land lies along the Illinois river bottom and for this reason the land did not average a higher figure per acre. The auctioneer was Al. W. Cies, and Edgar L. Kendall acted as clerk. The land was divided into several different tracts. Some of the buyers were the following:

One tract of 640 acres was purchased by four Pike county real estate men for $34,954: E. B. Strubinger, E. J. Straus, John Siegel and L. J. Graham, who in turn sold 233 acres along the bottom to the South Shore Gun club of Chicago.

One tract of 177 acres was purchased by E. B. Strubinger, of Pittsfield for $34,515.

Two hundred and fifty of upland and timber land went to Harmon Northrup at $15,780. Clarence McCaleb purchased 80 acres for $4,000.

J. H. Vaughn purchased 88 acres for $4,840, and another tract of 160 acres for $4,800.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAYS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Lewis entertained Sunday at a dinner at their pleasant home east of the city in honor of Mr. Lewis' mother, who has attained the advanced age of 81 years. The event was also in honor of Mr. Lewis' thirty ninth birthday. They were both well remembered with presents.

Mrs. Lewis, better known as Grandma Lewis, is the mother of four sons and three daughters, and is proud of twenty-three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She has been in failing health the past ten months and is a patient at Passavant hospital, but is so far improved that she is able to visit occasionally among her children. She heartily enjoyed the event given in her honor and was especially pleased to be with her great grandson, James Rollan Robinson.

The house was tastefully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers. The table was laden with the good things which Mrs. Lewis knows so well how to prepare. The splendid cakes were baked by her daughters, Freida and Elizabeth. Mrs. Lewis was assisted in serving by her daughters and sister, Miss Gertrude.

Numbered in the company were Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Sheppard and daughter Gertrude, of Woodson; Grandma Lewis of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis of South Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis and family of Franklin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson and little son James Rollan of Alexander. Mrs. Robinson was formerly Emma Winter of Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis were unable to attend on account of illness.

How Much Sleep do You Need

The great common sense of the human race says—"Go to bed when you're tired; get up when you're rested"

JUST how long it takes to get rested depends on how "deep" you sleep. Perhaps you are one of the lucky individuals who are "dead to the world" when you sleep.

But if you are only about half asleep all night, tossing about and waking at every little sound, you can stay in bed twenty-four hours and still need sleep.

Sleeping soundly is a matter of getting perfectly relaxed.

The slightest noise keeps the nerves alert.

What you need for deep, sound sleep all night is a perfectly quiet bed and a spring that insures complete relaxation.

That is why people sleep so much better in the Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring.

These patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.

THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do.

It yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, bump—or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep. It is rust-proof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.

THE hard work and nervous strain of these days has so much attention to sleep. The Simmons Metal Bed and Slumber King Spring are what you are looking for—made to insure sleep.

We have them in a wide choice of beautiful styles in brass—and in enamel in colors and natural wood effects at prices no higher than for ordinary beds.

Come in and let us show them to you.

TRAIN ORDER STATION AT WHITE HALL

Interlocking Tower to Be Used as Such Between Hours of 3 p. m. and 7 a. m.—Well Known Railroad Man Dies—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, March 10.—A telegraph office was opened at the interlocking tower, just at the north edge of the city, Saturday, and that point will be a train order station between 3 p. m. and 7 a. m. in each 24 hours, including Sunday. Operator C. A. Wallace, of the E. J. & E. and J. D. Downey, of the Frisco, arrived Saturday, relieving Peter Frame and L. A. Clowers on second and third tracks, all in the respective order. These assignments are temporary. J. A. Hamilton was here from Nilwood Saturday and purchased property on Bates avenue, which he will occupy with his family about April 1, at which time he will second track at the tower permanently. Leland Andrews, a White Hall boy, now at Corwith, near Chicago, will take third track, pending an examination for proficiency as a telegrapher. Frame has been at the tower for nearly twelve years, and the advent of telegraphy caught him unawares. He has been transferred to Pontiac, where the interlocking is operated by electricity. Clowers has been here only a few months. He has returned to his home at Ashland to await developments.

Michael Lyons, aged 65 years, died in the Union Pacific hospital at St. Louis at 1:15 Sunday morning following an injury. For many years he has been in the track department of the terminal yards at East St. Louis, previous to which he was construction foreman on this division of the Burlington. His family resides at White Hall. William and Charles, the two sons at home, went to St. Louis Friday, and they are looking after funeral arrangements they having been accompanied from Shipman by their uncle, Thomas Lyons, a brother of the deceased. The burial will probably be at Shipman. The widow, Mrs. Mame Lyons, has been seriously ill at the home here for ten days, and is now barely able to be up.

Mrs. J. Wes Talley, reported last week as at the point of death with pneumonia took a turn for the better Saturday, and her recovery is now expected.

E. L. Wendell, well known as a former Baptist minister and political debater, was down from Beardstown last week on business connected with the new organization of trackmen on the Burlington. He is a crossing flagman at Beardstown.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mrs. Anna Dillman. Three inches of snow fell Saturday night and passed away Sunday.

Boy Scouts Out on Hike

The frequent appearance of the Boy Scouts on parades and hikes gives evidence of the approach of spring and also a very live organization. Scoutmaster E. C. Lucas is developing a splendid organization, and they will make a good account of themselves at the soldiers' memorial tree planting on April 3rd.

At a meeting at the Christian church Saturday announcement was made of the results of the tenderfoot examination held in the Presbyterian church last week. The examination embraced the following subjects: History, meaning and the forms of respect due the flag; meaning of Scout oath, law, salute and motto; trying of the ten knots. Seventeen participated in the examination, seven of whom passed, as follows: Paul Rimbey, Louis Lowenstein, Homer Rimbey, Myrtle Mackey, Russell Bell, Raymond Winters, Russel Anderson.

Scoutmaster Lucas is a great favorite among the boys. He has been conscientious and painstaking in training the boys during the two years that he has been pastor of the Christian church, and has been on some long hikes with them, one of which was to the Illinois river last August. It is planned to go to Havana this spring by boat from Grand Pass.

A graduate member of the local Scouts has this to say: "Scouting is good for any boy. It gives the boys clean, healthful and beneficial exercise, and makes them wiser and more akin to the great outdoors, a keener insight into the laws of nature. It teaches cleanliness, obedience, thrift, reverence, loyalty—and the characteristics of a gentleman. It teaches him to have a greater interest in the wild life about him. It teaches him the power and greatness of God. The best moments of my life are the ones I spent listening to the stories of our scoutmaster around the campfire. The Boy Scouts of America have a place for your boy in its great brotherhood of loyal men and boys. If you want him to develop into what the world calls a man, put him this day into the hands of a live local troop and watch him develop into a gentleman."

BRINGS MESSAGE FROM CHURCHES OF FRANCE

Chaplain Couve Heard in Interesting Address at Congregational Church Sunday Night — Emphasized Love Which People of France Have for Americans.

Standing room only was the announcement at the Congregational church Sunday evening and all the seats had been brought from the lecture room to care for the throngs gathered to hear Chaplain Couve deliver his message from the Protestant churches of France to those of America. The chaplain is a fine appearing man, every inch a soldier in his bearing and with enough native accent to add spice and attraction to his words. In introducing him Mr. Collins remarked that it was hard for a Frenchman to become accustomed to the push and bustle of American life. As an instance, he told the story of an American young man assigned to the hospital of a certain French family in the city he was to visit. The daughter of the prospective host met him at the station and on the way to the house he proposed to her and was accepted.

Chaplain Couve said in part: Delegate of French Churches. I come here as the delegate of the Protestant churches of France and with the approval of my government to endeavor to strengthen the ties of brotherhood between us and the churches of America. Love should have its due expression. A woman who had given a life of toil and sacrifice to her family was in her last illness when one of her sons, a successful man, said "Mother, you have been very good to us all."

"Why didn't you tell me that before?" was the sad response. The people of France love the United States and are most grateful for what has been done for them, and want to strengthen the ties between the two countries. Like France America faces a great danger. After the excitement of the war wears away what will be the result? Will the people settle back into former ways with no improvement? Will the returned soldiers find employment or will they drift into bad habits of indolence and extravagance? We must be united for great constructive work. The victory is not yet won; untold problems are not yet solved and we need close co-operation and friendship in their solution.

Haunted By Graves of Dead. In my home land I have seen suffering and devastation beyond compare. I have seen old men, women and children driven from their homes to starve and die miserably and even in my dreams the last resting places of the thousands of dead haunt me. There lie the bodies of French, British, Italians, East Indians, Indians, United States soldiers and all representations of the nations who took part in the terrible conflict. Men who gave their lives that we might have the blessings of freedom.

We of France want to be united with you in establishing a new order of things. It seems to me the people of the United States do not fully understand our people regarding the league of nations. They think our country is intoxicated with victory and want to force you to accept the league of nations as proposed by President Wilson. We do feel that it is useless to give so many of our brave sons unless something is done to make another war impossible and the safety of small nations guaranteed.

Recalls Great Men's Lives. France thirsts for liberty and freedom from future assaults for she knows she has a treacherous neighbor to deal with. I found in the trenches an article written by a German officer and scolding my people and declaring the intention to subdue them utterly. Many people think our nation not sober and calculating but frivolous and volatile yet this is unjust. Go back to the days of your revolution and recall Lafayette, Rochambeau and other brave men who aided in the cause of liberty. We are fully considering everything now and hope for an ally in the United States to co-operate with us in securing world peace and freedom with stability and equal chance for all.

We in France knew little of America before the war. You sent us many tourists who generally were wealthy and extravagant. Your ladies were liberal shoppers buying goods but seeming to have not very high ideals. Now we have a very different view. The people we thought only rich and extravagant we discovered were the most brave and gallant soldiers and we feel sure your people will not go back to the old conditions, but will use every effort for something higher and better.

Must Meet Great Crisis. If you believe in grand ideals we feel sure you will unite with us in the endeavor to accomplish great things. The victory will be ours if we fail to unite in the effort for grand results hereafter. I realize some of the objections certain senators are making to the proposed league of nations. When I was in Washington recently I was invited to offer prayer at the opening of the U. S. senate and I prayed to God to aid the cause of the league of nations. Our people are praying for it too but it will be of no value to the world without the United States being in it. I do not forget what America did for us and I feel that now in this great crisis she will not be wanting in seeking the peace of the world.

I do not think there is any danger of renouncing the sovereignty of the United States. I was in Paris when some foreign troops marched thru the city. There were men from many parts of the world and the were cheered as they passed along but when the Americans showed up the cheering was vociferous; far greater than for any other men. An old woman at my elbow chided me for not shouting louder than I thought I was making all the noise I could.

Noble Work of Relief Agencies. Think of our losses. Of a population of forty million 1,400,000 were killed. Think of the widows and orphans, women of America; do you realize what that means? Think how many young women will have to go single thru life. Think of the homes with the empty chairs; think of the graves in our fair land. Let it not be said that the 1,400,000 died in vain. Now you know the soul of France and we have discovered the soul of America. We have seen not only the soldiers brave and true but we have seen the noble work of the "Red Cross," the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the K. of C. and other organizations. Now that the war is won we face the great problem of reconstruction. We need yet more of the help of America morally and spiritually. I come to you as a delegate from the Protestant churches of France beseeching you to help us. You do not realize the great privileges you enjoy in this grand country of yours.

Revered Pilgrim Fathers. In France there is generally a wide chasm between the church and the people and we feel that America can help bring about a better state of things. I have even been led to admire the spirit of America. My mother taught me to reverence the Pilgrim fathers who did so much for education, freedom and religion in the United States. Germany had little idea of genuine religion. Russia still less Spain some, but no idea of democracy. France has suffered more food democracy than other nations and now we beg for a revival of better things. I want to see France true to democracy, more Christian and to that end I am here urging you to co-operate with us in bringing this about. I think there are about 1,600,000 Protestants; 1,500,000 Roman Catholics and about 25,000,000 with no professed religious belief. We feel our Protestant churches are to be the heaven that will lighten the lamp and we pray for your help.

The lecture was heard with profound interest and attention and several questions were asked and answered. The appearance of the gentleman was a rare event in the annals of Jacksonville.

WAR SHOWS VALUE OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

All Nations Have Quickened Appreciation of Value of Physical Education as Result of War—Illinois First State to Require Such Training by Statute.

Washington, Mar. 10.—A quickened appreciation in all nations of the value of physical education has resulted from the war, according to Dr. P. P. Claxton, commissioner of the bureau of education, and has been evidenced in this country by the enactment of laws in eight states requiring physical training in the public schools.

A bulletin issued by the bureau summarizing legislation on the subject, notes that in France a strong central committee has been formed to promote physical education and in England comprehensive provisions have been incorporated in the new education law. Illinois was the first of the American states to require physical training by statute, passing the law in June 1915. Since that time New York, New Jersey, Nevada, Rhode Island, California, Maryland and Delaware have enacted similar laws and six other states, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Ohio and Colorado, have given legislative attention to the subject but have not acted.

In most states which have considered physical education the initial impulse to action was interest in military preparedness and took the form of bills for military training by statute passing the law legislation resulted in convincing the legislators, the Bulletin says, that military training for youths was less valuable even as a measure of preparedness than a solid system of physical training. With the exception of Nevada, where the law applies to high schools only, the law apply to all school children and the time requirement ranges from one hour each school week to two hours and a half.

PLANS IN PROGRESS
FOR G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT
Columbus, O., March 5.—Plans are already being made for the annual national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic here in September. The interest being taken by military organizations and auxiliaries has convinced leaders that the encampment will bring from 300,000 to 400,000 visitors to Columbus, according to Colonel C. E. Adams, of Omaha, Neb., who told Sons of Veterans and Daughters of Veterans of the seventh district that the federal railroad administration had promised satisfactory rates.

Among other organizations planning to hold conventions at the time of the encampment are the Loyal Legion, Women's Relief Corps, Women of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans, and Daughters of Veterans. Many regimental and company unions also are planned, Colonel Adams stated. Col. Adams, though 72 years old, still is in active army service. General Pershing, when a lieutenant, once was a member of his state. Until the European war closed, Colonel Adams had charge of overseas shipment with headquarters at Omaha. He had been ordered to start to Europe two days after the armistice was signed.

RUSSIAN SINGER GRANTED TITLE
Vladivostok, Jan. 4.—M. Shalipan, a Russian singer, has been granted the title of "People's Artist" by the Soviet of Commissars from the Northern District Committee, according to the Bolshevik paper of Petrograd, the Skaya Pravda. Some months ago the singer was reported to have been shot in Finland by the Bolsheviks.

Foley Kidney Pills
The kidneys almost literally wash the blood and keep it clean and free from impurities. When the kidneys are out of order, they fail to filter out this waste and poisonous matter and it remains in the system to cause backache, rheumatic pains, sore muscles and stiff joints.

C. W. Smith, 1205 No. 4th St., Salina, Kas., writes: "I am very much pleased with Foley Kidney Pills. I am working in a coal mine and have been very much troubled with my back. I have taken several doses of Foley Kidney Pills and they have done me good."

YOU well know with the use of air the tires are never worn out, and many of them go to the junk pile from a blowout or rimcut long before the tread is worn out. BUILT TO FIT FARM

The Moline Universal One-Man Tractor

Before the first Moline-Universal was built over 5 years ago, we determined exactly the power requirements of the average farm and just what the average farmer desired most in a tractor. The engineering department used as a basis the information gained through a questionnaire answered by over 30,000 farmers. When this information was summed up, it was shown beyond a doubt that a tractor to be successful must be able to do all farm work, including cultivating, and that one man must be able to operate both tractor and implement in all operations. It was shown that the total horse and man power hours required during the cultivating season were equal to those required for plowing and harrowing. The farm tractor must do light as well as heavy work or otherwise the number of horses cannot be materially reduced, and it is too expensive to have two tractors, one for heavy work and the other for light work. Thus it can be seen that the Moline-Universal design is based on actual farm requirements, and is in reality the most logical type of tractor. This is being proven every day by thousands of Moline-Universal owners, and while the Moline-Universal has been gradually improved and perfected it has never been changed in type.
